

CLAIM MINERS OFFICIALS RESPONSIBLE

OPERATORS PLACE BLAME OF ARMED INVASION ON THEM

Statement Issued by Chairman of Operators Association in Reply to Statement of Samuel Gompers—Says That the Companies Granted Increase as Fixed by Government

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Officials of the United Mine Workers of America were charged with responsibility "for the invasion of Logan county and proposed invasion of Mingo county by armed miners," in a statement issued here tonight by Harry Olmsted, chairman of the Operators Association of the Williamson field. The statement was declared to be in answer to that of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor which Mr. Olmsted described as hypocritical and in many instances false and misleading.

Mine guards and private detectives are not employed by operators in the Williamson field, Mr. Olmsted said, adding that Mr. Gompers had "deliberately misrepresented conditions that have preceded and surrounded the attempt of armed invasion."

The charge of Mr. Gompers that the uprising had been caused by the failure of the operators to put into effect the award of the government wage board was characterized as another falsehood.

"The mine operators were under obligations to do so," the statement said, "they having no sort of connection with the coal fields covered by that award."

Granted increases as fixed allowed by the United States government were adopted in this field promptly after the amount of increase had been fixed. It has never before been alleged that the strike in the Williamson field was due to wage adjustment or any cause other than to compel recognition of the United Mine Workers' organization.

"Coal is measured rather than weighed in this field because it is the easiest and most satisfactory method of accounting between the miners and the employers; the men never asked to have the system changed. They don't want it changed."

"The earnings per day or week or month is the real issue. Such statements comparing the earnings in the Williamson field with those in the unionized Kanawha field was submitted to the senatorial investigating committee in July. Possibly it was envied aroused by that exposure that caused the Kanawha miners to attempt an invasion of the non-union coal fields."

"Mr. Gompers makes himself ridiculous to West Virginians when he makes his plea about the miners protecting against lawlessness insofar as least as he refers to the United Mine Workers. The miners themselves are generally lawabiding. Every disorder that has ever occurred in the mining fields of West Virginia has been occasioned by the thugs and outlaws of the United Mine Workers organization who came into the state to compel the unionization of these coal fields."

Not Spontaneous Uprising
"The invasion of Logan county and the threatened invasion of Mingo county was not a spontaneous uprising. It was planned by the United Mine Workers organization in the Williamson field as early as April and May 1920."

"In the counties of Logan and Mingo, W. Va., and Pike county Ky., having an aggregate area of 1,633 square miles and an aggregate population of 116,847 people there were not employed as many as 100 peace officers prior to the invasion by the organizers of the United Mine Workers. They were not needed."

"Not any of these peace officers were Baldwin-Felts employees, but included only regularly chosen deputy sheriffs and constables and other officers."

"When the United Mine Workers of America was formed in 1890 it was recognized as a lawful organization and continued as such until 1898, when they entered into a conspiracy with the central competitive field to control the bituminous market of the United States."

"Since 1912 it has been the policy of the United Mine Workers to compel by the use of force in every conceivable way, all persons engaged in the mining industry to join the union and it has likewise been its policy to destroy all business of non-union operators, the end of which would mean the subjection of the coal industry of the United States to such unjust and unlawful demands as it may desire to put into force."

SPRINGFIELD MEN SIGN AFFIDAVITS IN VENUE CASE

Think Judge Smith too Prejudiced to Give
Small Fair Trial

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 5.—Supported by affidavits by Senator John A. Wheeler and Chauncey H. Jenkins, director of the state department of public welfare, Governor Small's petition for a change of venue from the court of Judge E. S. Smith for trial on charges of embezzlement of public funds while state treasurer was filed today in the circuit court of Sangamon county.

Senator Wheeler is one of the administration supporters in the state senate. Jenkins, former probate judge of Sangamon county, was appointed head of the public welfare department by Governor Small last January. Both are residents of Springfield. The affidavits of Senator Wheeler and Judge Jenkins are almost identical. Both swore they believed "the judge of the said court, Honorable Elbert S. Smith, is so prejudiced against the said defendant in said cause that the defendant cannot have a fair and impartial trial before said judge."

Charges Are Identical.

Governor Small's petition makes the same charge. Applications by Governor Small and his co-defendant, Vernon S. Curtis for a change of venue from Sangamon county will probably not be filed before Sept. 16, the date set by agreement for actually starting the proceedings in the Small-Sterling-Curtis embezzlement and conspiracy cases, it was said tonight.

Court opened for the September term today. The new grand jury will be empaneled tomorrow but it was indicated tonight that no further inquiry into official state matters will be made during this term.

Curtis' fight for a change of venue from the court of Judge Smith and from Sangamon county will begin Sept. 16, when arguments on Governor Small's application will be made it was said tonight.

Court opened with no indication that Lieutenant Governor Sterling will attempt to avoid trial in Sangamon county. His only action since his indictment with Governor Small July 20 was on August 23 when he paid into the state treasurer $391,000 interest earnings as a settlement for his term as state treasurer which followed that of Governor Small.

MURDERS FAMILY THEN KILLS SELF

ORMSBY Minn., Sept. 5.—An entire family of seven, the father, mother and five children, were found shot to death in their home here late today, apparently the victims of the father, Frank Klocow, a prominent local business man. The bodies were discovered shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon but the coroner concluded they met their death between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Klocow the dead are Fred, 16 years old, Myrtle 14, Glen 12, Oliver 10 and Leland 3.

All had been shot by a revolver as they lay in bed and there were indications that a struggle had been used to numb their senses before they were shot. The revolver was found under Klocow's left arm.

A letter was found on a table addressed to Henry Klocow, a brother at Estherville, Iowa, and pending his arrival funeral arrangements will be held in abeyance.

Complete Plans For Billion Dollar Credit

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Preparations for advancing upwards of a billion dollars in agricultural and livestock credits under recent legislation have virtually completed by the war finance corporation officials said tonight. The corporation probably will be ready within the next week or so to function under its enlarged powers designed to afford needed credit relief to the farmers, it was said.

To expedite the advances executive committees are being formed in agriculture and stock raising sections of the west and south and will attend to preliminary details of applications, making the necessary investigations and determining the adequacy of securities offered.

Committees Being Formed
Ten or fifteen such committees are being formed now and others

REPORT FRESH OUTBREAKS IN HARDIN COUNTY

Men Are Aroused by Labor Day Speakers, it is Alleged

(By The Associated Press)
HARRISBURG, Ill., Sept. 5.—Fresh outbreaks in Hardin county between striking Fluorspar miners and guards were reported tonight, but it was impossible to verify the stories over the crippled telephone lines.

Included in the unconfirmed reports was one that a battle had taken place near Rosi Clare this noon. Other reports denied serious trouble and said all was quiet tonight.

Labor Day celebrations at Harrisburg, Eldorado, Marion, West Frankfort, Benton and Duquoin drew large crowds estimated at 15,000 at first named place and 8,000 at Eldorado.

Speakers aroused their audiences by references to recent difficulties at Rosi Clare and Elizabethtown.

Reports were that Mine Superintendent Swanson, his wife, three children and brother-in-law were prisoners in the hills. R. A. Randolph, business man is said to have been stopped by miners Sunday near Rosi Clare and compelled to return to Harrisburg.

FIRE DAMAGES IOWA THEATRE

WATERLOO, Iowa, Sept. 5.—Fire of unknown origin discovered early this morning blazing thru the roof of the Plaza Theatre caused an approximate loss of $100,000 to building and equipment. Among equipment burned was a huge pipe organ said to be one of the finest in the state.

The Plaza until recently had been numbered among the Hosteler enterprises. The president of the company recently presented his nephew, G. R. Norman with the lease and equipment as a wedding present and the young couple were running it as their own enterprise. The building was insured.

TRYING TO SAVE VILLAGES FROM FIRE

BANKOR, Me., Sept. 5.—Backfires were being built and trenches dug over a wide area by a force of several hundred men tonight in an effort to save the village of Milford and other settlements along the Penobscot River threatened by a forest fire. Fifteen thousand acres of meadow and woodland in the towns of Milford and Greenbush have burned over tonight and the fire had spread in to the town of Bradley. Two farm houses in Greenbush were destroyed. There is no adequate water supply with which to fight the flames.

ROY GARDNER MAKES ESCAPE FROM PRISON

Mail Bandit Makes Good Boast in Sensational Escape

(By The Associated Press)
TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 5.—Under the eyes of Herbert H. Votaw, superintendent of federal prisoners and brother-in-law of President Harding three prisoners in the McNeil Island penitentiary today made a dash for liberty at a baseball game with the result that one is dead, another seriously wounded and the third Roy Gardner, California mail bandit is at large and believed to be hiding on the island.

Everett Impyny, a life term was shot and killed by the guards and Lawardus Bogart, another life prisoner was seriously wounded. In the attempt to escape, Bogart is in the prison hospital and his body riddled with buckshot.

Superintendent Votaw arrived at the prison today on a trip of inspection and two hours later witnessed the dash for liberty.

Gardner had made the boast that he would not stay long at McNeil Island prison. Twice in the 13 months he had escaped from officers on his way to prison.

Escape Carefully Planned
The break for liberty was carefully planned by Gardner and the other two prisoners according to word received here from McNeil Island. The prisoners had been on a holiday on account of Labor Day. Nearly 200 were watching a baseball game between two prison teams.

Gardner, Impyny and Bogart had contrived to seat themselves together at the extreme rear of the crowd of spectators. They had evidently made careful preparations for the attempt and timed their movements to the second. They waited until a tense point had been reached in the ball game and then suddenly bolted.

Gardner was the first to break through the crowd and reached the barbed wire several yards in advance of his companions. He had stolen a pair of pliers from the prison tool shop and whipping these from his pocket he used them so quickly that he had cut an opening in the fence before the other two had reached the barbed wire.

Impyny and Bogart however, had scarcely got away from the crowd before the guards saw them. In an instant pandemonium reigned. Half a dozen guards opened fire on the fugitives while the rest of the officers directed their attention keeping in check the prisoners, many of whom, seeing the gap in the fence started to surge toward it.

Impyny and Bogart fell at the very threshold of liberty but Gardner wormed his way thru the hole in the fence and sprinted for the woods braving a fusillade of bullets from the guards guns. It is only a short distance from the baseball field to the woods and Gardner quickly disappeared.

NATIONAL GUARD UNITS DISBAND

(By The Associated Press)
LOGAN, W. Va., Sept. 5.—Colonel W. E. Evans, in command of units of the national guard called out to resist the attempted encroachment of armed men upon territory west of Spruce Fork ridge today left for his home in Welch. Before he left Logan every unit which served under him had been disbanded.

Just before his departure Colonel Evans issued a statement expressing appreciation for the loyalty, good conduct and fighting qualities of the men who had served under him.

Logan was deserted today. Not a single volunteer was seen on the streets and it was said that work at coal loading stations that some of these were able to operate up to 80 per cent of maximum efficiency.

The boy said that his brother Stanley, 13, was the victim of a severe beating with a razor strap and that when the father tried to treat him likewise he picked up a gun and shot him dead. The widow and mother of the boy stated that she had long been brutally beaten by Bueler. Police said it was improbable that a murder charge would be filed against the boy.

LABOR DAY MADE MEMORABLE WITH VARIED PROGRAM

Unions Largely Represented in Impressive
Parade—Addresses Made by Well Known
Ministers—Athletics and Social Features
Had Proper Part in the Day's Events

Labor Day was observed in Jacksonville with program of unusual worth. For several weeks past committees had been engaged in the work of preparation and the results were fully apparent Monday. The parade was the feature of the morning and in the afternoon addresses were made at Nichols park by Rev. M. L. Pontius and Father Edward Cahill. Vaudeville features on the public square in the morning and at the park in the afternoon, together with athletic sports and dancing at night made up a day of both pleasure and interest.

One feature of entertainment was the parachute leap from an aeroplane which took place at 4:30 o'clock at Nichols park. The aviator who is a representative of Hutson Brothers, made a successful descent.

In the early morning hours the weather looked unfavorable but before noon the clouds had cleared away and so rain did not mar the arrangements.

The parade formed near the Labor temple on South Mainville street at 10 o'clock and moved along the line of march in the business district. The square and adjacent streets were lined with people and interest in both the floats and the marchers was apparent.

Beaumont had promised a large delegation and the visitors arrived on the early morning train and had an important place in the parade. The Jacksonville and Beardsdown bands and DeSilva drum corps furnished music, and the various unions were represented by a large percentage of the membership.

Liberal cash prizes were offered for the handiwork float, the first being awarded to L. E. O'Donnell and the second to Minnetonka Council No. 71.

The order of the parade was as follows:
Marchal.
Platoon Police.

Beardsdown sent between 150 and 200 men, representing the 21 unions of that town. They were accompanied by Mayor Wesley Perry, Aldermen G. A. Looman, M. G. Frew and A. T. Harrison.

Mr. O'Donnell's car was beautiful in yellow and white colors, the arrangement being in every way artistic. A boy of girls dressed in white had an important place in the plan of decorations for this float.

Members of the Paper Hangers, Painters and Decorators' Union wore new white suits and cars and each carried a yardstick as indicative of his trade.

One of the most elaborate floats was that of Faugust Brothers. It was designed largely from furnace piping, and there were various features to indicate the radiator repair and general tin work which the firm does. The float preceded members of the Turners' Union each of whom Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor in a Labor Day address here today discussed many phases of the organized labor movement, calling especial attention during his address to the labor situation in West Virginia which he described as a menace.

Mr. Morrison said "it is hoped that the federal government will remove anarchy in every form in West Virginia and reestablish the constitutional government in that state," and declared "the federal government should apply heroic treatment in West Virginia."

In just a few of the automobile accidents which occurred last Sunday fourteen people were killed and several severely injured. Yet it is a safe thing to say that most of those accidents were the direct result of carelessness. Sometimes carelessness exhibits itself in excessive speed, but that is only one method that autoists use in their display of poor judgment.

There are said to be many vacant pulpits throughout the country because young men have not been received into the ministry as fast as needed. Nevertheless, officials of a certain church in a New England town advertised for a minister and offered a salary of $500 a year. They received a dozen answers.

Some interesting figures have been compiled by a special writer concerning road building costs. Based upon figures from 8 states, it is shown that the average price of common labor is now 38¢ per hour in road building work. This represents a substantial cut for the wages a year ago ranged from 60¢ to 80¢ per hour.

POSTMASTER GENERAL URGES POLITENESS
Courtesy is a word that must appear in the lexicon of every postal employee, under an order issued by Postmaster General Hays. "Proper courtesy," says the order, "does not retard, but expedites business, and the employee who exercises, unfailingly, courtesy throughout each day's work, renders more in service than can be measured as 'hours of duty.'"

SOME EXPORT FIGURES
The report of the Department of Commerce for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1921, shows plainly that Europe is now buying much less raw material from us and that food shipments have decreased very appreciably.

Government statistics show that for the fiscal year just passed the value of foreign shipments in electrical machinery and appliances has increased some $32,000,000 over the record set for the previous fiscal year.

CUSTOMER OWNERSHIP
Roger W. Babson, recognized as one of the leading economists of the country, in a recent article says: "Government ownership to displace concentrated capital ownership has been the alternative usually proposed in consideration of the problems of our essential industries. Recently, however, progressive public utility companies have blazed a new trail. Their success with what is now called 'customer ownership,' gives promise of a solution for other lines. "I believe that we have here the beginning of a working plan for public co-operation with private management that may be applied equally well to railroads and possibly some of the industries providing necessities of life."

Eldest Son of Mrs. Rebecca J. Young Succumbs After Long Illness—Made Success in Business.

Mrs. Rebecca Young has received word of the death of her son, John W. Young, who passed away at his home in LaJolla, California. Deceased was born in this city October 28, 1873, and was the son of John and Mrs. Rebecca Taylor Young. He received the best educational facilities afforded by the place and also studied pharmacy and graduated at a school in Chicago but did not follow it. On his return to Jacksonville he was employed by his uncle, Robert Russell, dealer in shoes in the room now occupied by the Florenz Dry Goods Co., east side of the square. He was also for a time connected with the shoe store of J. F. Self and Son.

He went to Denver in 1898 and once became identified with the business interests of that city. For some years he was connected with the Gans-Dowd Company and five years ago took the part in organizing the Broadhurst & Young Shoe Company which was very successful. Heavy business cares undermined his health and for a year or more he has resided in California where he went hoping to recover but in vain.

October 10, 1901 he was married to Miss Stella Bailey, daughter of the late Prof. George W. Bailey and wife, formerly of this city. He was the son of W. D. and Miss Frances Wood and sister of Miss Ruth Bailey of this city.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Lucille, also his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Young of this city; three brothers, William, of New York; Edward and C. A. Young, of this city; three sisters, Miss Louise, teacher in Portland, Maine; Jane, Mrs. Olinstead, of St. Louis and Ann, Mrs. Percy Jenkinson, of Minneapolis. THE REV. COLIN D. JAMES AND THE WOMAN'S COLLEGE AT JACKSONVILLE

All over the Mississippi Valley lie the remains of academies and seminaries founded and developed by the self-sacrificing efforts of religious denominations or of independent laymen, a or of communities determined that in this new land dedicated to freedom, the altar of intelligence and learning should never grow cold.

There are two great eras in the realm of secondary education thru out this great extent of territory; first, that of the private or denominational academy and seminary, second, that of the public high school; and the second is greater than the first.

At present, the high school has displaced the academy or seminary nearly universally. Only now and then, owing to peculiar circumstances an academy or seminary has survived owing its continuance to the endowment of some well meaning patriot, to the earnest support of some lively group of coreligionists or to the present lack of public school opportunities which time and circumstance will remedy.

Of all these efforts to make sure that the torch of human intelligence should continue to burn, those of the Methodist Episcopal church, were most successful. Nearly every flourishing town counted as among its assets, a growing academy or seminary under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church. And the fact that there was so many of these ready to be turned over to the public authorities as soon as they were ready to assume them, accounts in considerable degree for the lightning-like rapidity of the movement for public education when it once started.

Among the preachers of the Methodist Episcopal church were always to be found a number who were especially interested in this branch of the work. In the Illinois conference Peter Cartwright led the way. Under his enlightened guidance, seminary after seminary was started and developed and carried on until the people were willing to assume the obligation. It is this safe to say that no Methodist College or seminary was started in the domain of the Illinois or Southern Illinois Conference prior to 1860 which did not count Peter Cartwright among its founders.

In this work he had a number of active coadjutors—clerical as well as lay. Prominent among the former class was Colin D. James who as will be seen in the sequel was the most efficient worker on behalf of the Illinois Female College, afterwards Woman's College.

He had an active part in the administration of two other Illinois Colleges before coming to Jacksonville as financial agent of the Female College in its time of storm and stress. He had been President of the Board of Trustees of McKendree College at Lebanon in the year 1849-1850, just before the Illinois Conference which he joined was formed. As Presiding Elder of the Blount-District in 1851-53 he was active in the formative years of the life of the Illinois Wesleyan where two of his sons subsequently attended school. His name was among the first incorporators of that institution.

When he came to Jacksonville in 1854 he was elected a trustee of the Women's College and continued to act in that important capacity for ten years. It was while station preacher and circuit rider in and about Jacksonville that he made the acquaintance of people who later on responded to his appeal for the college. He preached at Greenfield, Winchester, Island Grove and Berlin, during these years and it was while at Island Grove in 1861 that he was elected financial agent of the college for the year 1861-62. He broke up his home in Island Grove and moved to Jacksonville in September 1861. He had hardly settled in his new home erected by the Rev. William Trotter when fire came to destroy, as it seemed, all the work that had been done at the college and to prevent any efficient work from being done by the new financial agent.

As a lad of six years of age, from the plaza of a building which stood opposite the northwest corner of the college ground, I gazed on the greatest fire I had ever seen. I little realized at the time of what a period of privation, of hunger and nakedness, this fire foreboded for us. A family of six children with more on the way, a great war beginning, a time for wearing out our old clothes and those of others who might be persuaded to give them. My father and mother led the way in this canvass for funds to rebuild the old college. I mention my mother especially because she more than did her part in bringing to this campaign the spirit that her father, the Rev. Anthony Wayne Casad, had displayed in the building of McKendree. He had drawn up an circulated the first subscription paper for McKendree and had helped his son Thomas cut and shape the first load of logs which went into the building.

It was a fearful year 1861-62 and those who remember what it was to raise $30,000 in those times from the farmers of the country around Jacksonville will appreciate what hardships were endured by the family of Colin D. James in that trying time. And yet I do not remember a single complaint on the part of any member of the family.

I met recently in Los Angeles, a man 93 years old who was one of the contributors to that fund and who laughingly said: "Your father was the greatest money raiser I ever knew. I subscribed one hundred dollars when that was all I could hope to clear in that year from my labor. I never regretted the subscription either," he added.

What my father did for the finances of the college in that year is not fully set forth in the records of the college which Dr. Harkey is collecting. At the end of the year, my father went back to Bloomington where after a few more years of active work he retired and bore up the Illinois Woman's College in his prayers, which I believe were as effective as his more strenuous work for that college in spe which has now become that college in re, and which is such a glory to Dr. Harkey and Jacksonville and the Illinois Conference.

I ought to add that Reverend C. D. James did one thing more for the Illinois Female College. He sent his two eldest daughters to the College for their education. His daughter Mary Elizabeth James was a graduate of 1859. She married Isaac Dew Casad and is now at eighty years of age living in California, alert, vigorous, as much interested as ever in everything she hears of the college here. His second daughter, Cornelia Angeline graduated in 1862 and married William Duling. After his death she married his half brother George Hawk and is living at Olathe, Kansas, as eager as ever to know of what is going on Edmund J. James

"Big City" Prices
—We have known always that prices charged in this city for made-to-measure suits and overcoats, taking the identical cloth into consideration, were much less than those charged in other cities. But, it has been difficult to convince many persons of this fact.
—Recently several men have called at our store and talked with us about suits. They knew woollens so they could not be fooled. They got our prices and found for a fact that we are from $30. to $50. under "Big City" prices for the same garments.
—Why then buy away from home?
—Our new goods for fall and winter suits and overcoats are in—Nov.
—All we ask of the men of this community who like and wear good clothes is to call and see the new fabrics, get our prices and let us show them just how and why Jacksonville prices are lower. No obligation is entailed. We gladly welcome the opportunity.

SM S. CONVENTION AT LITERBERRY
Was Held in Baptist Church Sunday—Number of Local People Present at Meeting.

The Litterberry Precinct Sunday School convention convened at the Baptist church in Litterberry Sunday with a good attendance and a splendid program. The meeting opened with song service which was led by Rev. Browning, pastor of the Christian church. He made an address on the needs of that community and emphasized a big vision and a definite program as paramount among them.

An interesting talk on Young People's Work was made by Miss Frances Bradley of this city. Some excellent musical numbers were also rendered with Mrs. Durrell Crum as pianist, Miss Bradley as violinist, with J. E. Underbrink assisting with the organ.

Rev. Walter E. Spooner delivered an address of remarkable force on the "Prodigal Son," explaining it with a drama in three parts. Rev. Spooner also rapped the follies and vices of the young people with great vigor and vehemence.

Albert C. Crum, C. A. Beavers and Walter Petefish were then appointed as a committee on nominating officers. Upon the committee's recommendations the following were elected as officers for the precinct during the coming year:

President—James Petefish.
Secretary—Miss Anna Dinwiddie.
Children's superintendent—Mrs. John Guy.
Young People's superintendent—Orville Petefish.
Adult superintendent—Henry Sorrell.
Business superintendent—S. H. Crum.

Closing remarks were made by County Secretary J. S. Findley, and the benediction was pronounced by Arthur Swain of the Sinclair precinct.

Those present from this city included Rev. W. E. Spooner, J. S. Findley, Miss Frances Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rutherford.

WHAT THUNDER SHOWER CAUSED Responsible For Present Ice Cream Soda Says Michigan Man.

Detroit, Mich.—(By A. P. Mail.)—A summer thunder shower 41 years ago resulted in the "invention" of the ice cream soda, according to Fred Sanders, Jr., of Detroit, whose grandfather, Fred Sanders, claimed the distinction of having discovered this American institution.

Speaking of his grandfather's discovery, Mr. Sanders said: "Forty years ago the American people regarded ice cream much as the lily that could not be painted. At that time they 'took it straight.' Syrups were in general use in drink concoctions but the ice cream sundae and its many near relatives were unknown. Carbonated water was used by the soda dispensers in a popular drink known as sweet cream soda. Its chief ingredient was sweet cream, direct from the farm.

"The thunderstorm that brot about my grandfather's discovery came in the summer of 1880. He was conducting a soft drink parlor and the storm caused the sweet cream he had intended for sodas to sour. Just after the storm passed a wedding party dropped in and my grandfather volunteered to experiment until he found a substitute drink. He tried several drinks and finally concocted one almost identical with the ice cream soda of today.

"Members of the party liked the new drink so well that it became popular within a short time and soon all dealers were making the soda."

Miss Louise Fletcher left Sunday night for Cere Gordo, Ill., where she will teach history in the high school this year.

The Coleman Quick-Lite
Coleman Portable Lamps and Lanterns offer most satisfactory lighting devices known. They make a strong white light, easy to read by and brilliantly illuminating.

Coleman Lamps are made with heavy, light metal tanks or founts so that the liquid cannot spill and so that the air pressure will feed the fuel to the burner. At the burner the fuel is converted into vapor and this vapor mixed with air, about 5 parts vapor, 95 parts air, form a gas that is burned in the mantle, giving an extremely strong, bright, white light.

Besides its splendid lighting qualities, the Coleman is a real ornament to a room. No rural home should be without several of these Portable Lamps and Lanterns.

Members of Mionetona Council had prepared a very handsome float using purple and white for the rich decorations. A number of the members of the order rode with this float and their dresses accented with the general color scheme.
The Typographical Union float gave evidence of a great deal of painstaking work. White and yellow being the predominating colors although there was a touch of purple. This float included a type cabinet and Scott Crawford, a member of the union with "stick" in hand was busily engaged in setting type.
Still another float which was elaborately decorated was that of the Cigarmakers Union. It included a mammoth cigar from which a member of the union continually drew smoke.
It had been announced in advance that none of the unions would compete for the prizes so that the judges took none of the union floats into consideration.
At Nichols Park
An immense throng gathered at Nichols park in the afternoon and the wonder was what would have been done with the throng had the weather and roads been perfect? As it was it took any amount of caution and exertion by the park police to keep all things straight and moving but it was admirably accomplished with no mishaps reported. The Jacksonville and Beardstown bands occupied the band stand alternately and during the evening discoursed choice music which was well appreciated.
A stand for speakers had been erected and a number of seats just east of the band stand, the natural slope of the ground making a fine place for the seats which, extensive as they were, failed to seat more than a part of the sightseers and merry-makers assembled. Frank Mathews presided and introduced Rev. Father Cahill, who said in part:
We have assembled here today for the one outstanding purpose of proclaiming to the world that the man who performs useful work, in whatever capacity or relation, benefits both himself and his fellowmen. We declare today the cardinal principle of religion that in every man we must respect his dignity and worth as a man and as a Christian; that labor is not a thing to be ashamed of, if we listen to right reason, and to the teachings of Christianity, but that it is honorable calling, enabling a man to sustain his life in a way both upright and creditable.
Have Grave Problems.
At present we are confronted with problems at home that give us the gravest concern. Intent as we were on restoring the order of Europe, we did not sufficiently heed the symptoms of unrest in our own country, nor did we reckon with movements which, in their final result, would undo both our recent achievement and all that America has so far accomplished. These problems are due, partly, to the disturbance which war invariably causes, by turning men away from their usual occupations, by reducing production, by increasing taxation and adding to the number of those who are dependent and helpless. The majority of the people do not realize to what an extent the necessities of war diverted industrial and other activities from their ordinary course. And there naturally results irritation and impatience at the slowness with which reconstruction proceeds.
We succeeded in our war for democracy and it is but proper that we should strive to carry out the principles of democracy in every phase of our national life. The quicker we are to realize that democratic principles must enter into industrial relationships the sooner will the prevalent labor-unrest give way. It really took the war to make us realize that for real efficiency there must be a partnership between labor and capital. And it is along the line of co-operation and co-partnership that reconstruction must proceed if America is to forge ahead as a true democracy. The fact is that joint committee has been formed in several groups of trades and these committees discuss questions of mutual interest with the management of the concerns for which they work. It has been found quite possible to get the shop in touch with the office on terms of mutual help and understanding.

Workers Must be Owners.
The full possibilities of increased production will not be realized so long as the majority of workers remain mere wage earners," the Catholic Labor Program maintains. "The majority of the workers must somehow become owners, or at least in part, of the means of production. They can be enabled to reach this stage gradually thru co-operative productive societies and co-partnership arrangements. In the former the workers own and manage the industries themselves; in the latter they own a substantial part of the corporate stock and exercise a reasonable share in the management. However slow the attainment of these ends they will have to be reached before we can have a thoroughly efficient system of production, or an industrial social order that will be secure from the danger of revolution."
M. L. Pontius Talks.
Rev. M. L. Pontius was the next speaker and delivered a powerful address which was well received. He dwelt especially on the need of a square deal all around; of the necessity of capital dealing fairly with labor and labor dealing fairly with capital. The salaries of railroad managers are often big in comparison with the wages of the men employed. If the operators would cut cost of living then wage earners could afford to take less pay. The coal operators manage to have the men work half the time and then the men must have higher pay under such circumstances. If the operators would manage as they should, keep the men at work all the time we would get out coal far cheaper than at present.
One of the most unfortunate things that have occurred in many days is the decision of the supreme court that the Owen-Keating bill is unconstitutional. That excellent measure undertook to protect young children from being employed in factories and other places when they should be at school.
This is one of the most unfortunate events of the year. Now the children will be drafted into the mills more than ever. Several southern states where child labor is permitted, are able to have mills which undersell mills in states which protect their children. It is simply awful to contemplate the spectacle, so often seen in the south, of children going to work before the rising sun has drawn aside the curtain of night and kept at work till after the hues of night have shut out the light of day.
The boys and girls thus employed have a right to fair treatment; treatment that will enable their bodies to develop normally and their minds to be trained. Surely the curse of heaven will follow the men who are culpable in this matter. I visited one factory where children are employed and adults work at a wage hardly enough for a fair support while the manager was getting the princely sum of $100,000 a year salary.
Do you wonder that atheists and anarchists were bred in that mill? I do not. A man should have a wage that will enable him to rent a fair house, clothe well, feed his family reasonably well; enable him to have some of the good things of life and at the same time lay by a little for a rainy day.
Must Get Together.
Labor and capital should get together and try to adjust all differences in an amicable manner. Neither side should ever resort to any kind of violence or lawlessness. I have no doubt if some radicals could be weeded out of the ranks of both labor and capital there would be little danger of strikes or lockouts or misunderstandings between men and employers. Always be honest; do a fair day's work and remember that lawlessness and anarchy never get one anywhere. Let both sides give a square deal and there will be no trouble.
Howard Sheehan and Walter Knox of Springfield then most acceptably entertained the vast audience with some songs accompanied on the piano by one of the gentlemen. R. Zaelano, a wizard with the accordion and his wife with the taborine and mandolin furnished some fine music. They sang and played most admirably, pleasing everyone.
Two Scotch character, Arthur and Peggy were then introduced and appeared in Highland kilts. Peggy sang most acceptably while Arthur did some wonderful stunts on a tight wire. He danced, hoped, skipped, turned somersaults backwards and did many thrilling acts.
Then came some amusing eating contests. Daisy Minter and Alberta Becup tied in the girls' pie eating contest and Bud Palmer took first in the boys' contest.
In the melon eating contest Albert Dice won first.

OFFICIALS SEIZE MANY LIQUOR LADEN CRAFT
Staid Old Salts do not Take Kindly to Prohibition Inspection of Their Craft—Numerous Schooners Detained Under Suspicion.
NEW YORK—(By A. P.)—Staid old salts aren't taking kindly to all the prohibition inspection, official and unofficial, that's going on inside and outside the three-mile limit.
"Gettin' so you can't drop a mud hook without some lubber whispering you're a rum runner," said one sustenance skippers who recently breezed into port with his schooner aglitter with fish scales.
According to this captain and others of his calling, numberless sleuths who played the "chase-the-spy" game during the war now are bent as zealously on tracking down liquor laden craft in post-war days.
Casts Reflection on Calling.
There were spies during the war and there are probably rum runners now operating off the coast, but skippers innocent of more than a strong tea breath are complaining that even their cod and haddock now are falling under suspicion and that a reflection is being cast on the ancient and honorable calling of fisherman.
Several months ago, strange fantastic tales began coming in from the Atlantic of vessels mysteriously missing and of other vessels as mysteriously sighted—the phantom craft that bobbed up out of fogs, circled merchant craft and scooted away as silently as they had come. Pirates was the first verdict.
Then, in July, off Hatteras, was found a stranded schooner, so battered by waves that even her name had been ground off her stern. She never was identified, but before she was destroyed by a coast guard cutter as a menace to navigation, there was found in her hold a cargo of rum.
This set folks thinking and when there came from Montauk Point, on the tip of Long Island, reports of an English schooner, that had of the three-mile limit and dispensed forbidden drinks to all comers, there were persons afloat and ashore who gave credence to the story.
Tale From Atlantic City.
Atlantic City, too, contributed a tale of a liquor schooner that lay off shore, sold liquor and tauntingly signalled to prohibition enforcement officers to come and get it.
Other schooners were reported, from Tampa north to Cape Sable, and each was suspected of rum-running. In many cases, it was reported that the two-stickers had ignored signals, refused all advances and kept snobbishly on their courses.
Now hardly a day passes that some vessel is being ported somewhere does not report encountering these baffling strangers, until it seems as if the entire merchant marine of all countries must suddenly have turned to rum running for a living.
Then seizures began and to date more than half a dozen schooners are being held on technical charges. At Philadelphia, Gloucester, New Haven, Atlantic City and New York there's lying a schooner under suspicion.
Arouses Great Flurry.
The case of the Henry L. Marshall, seized off Atlantic City and brought to New York by a coast guard cutter, has aroused perhaps the greatest flurry. She was flying the British flag outside the three mile limit when the cutter swooped down on her, and now official Washington has been called upon to decide what is to be done with her and the liquor found aboard her. Great Britain has indicated she will enter a formal protest, just by way of showing, without animosity, that she can't approve of other nations grabbing her vessels on the high seas. Her British registry, however, has been challenged.
Federal officials claim to have evidence of a conspiracy involving prominent men in ports along the Atlantic seaboard, who are believed to have put up hundreds of thousands of dollars to sell liquor to their thirsty fellow-countrymen. The Bahamas is alleged to be a home port of rum-running fleet. Others are believed to sail from St. Pierre, Miquelon, the French island south of Newfoundland.
Federal agents hold that evidence of a conspiracy to smuggle liquor into the country entitles them to seize craft of other nations even in the "international safety zone."
On the other hand, contention is made that it is perfectly legal for alien skippers to drop anchor outside the theoretical line and sell liquor to their heart's content to dorics putting off from shore. The illegality, it is claimed, come when the owners of these small craft don't drink up their purchases but attempt to bring some ashore for a more arid moment.

SPENT SUNDAY WITH RAYMOND RELATIVES
Charles Balsley and family and John McLaughlin and family motored to Waverly and from there to Raymond, Ill., Sunday. In Raymond they visited Mr. Balsley's grandfather, W. T. Gray, who is 85 years old and hale and hearty.
An unique feature of the little gathering was that there were five generations of Balsleys present. The travelers report the roads fairly good despite the heavy rains and had a delightful trip.

Must Get Together.
Labor and capital should get together and try to adjust all differences in an amicable manner. Neither side should ever resort to any kind of violence or lawlessness. I have no doubt if some radicals could be weeded out of the ranks of both labor and capital there would be little danger of strikes or lockouts or misunderstandings between men and employers. Always be honest; do a fair day's work and remember that lawlessness and anarchy never get one anywhere. Let both sides give a square deal and there will be no trouble.
Howard Sheehan and Walter Knox of Springfield then most acceptably entertained the vast audience with some songs accompanied on the piano by one of the gentlemen. R. Zaelano, a wizard with the accordion and his wife with the taborine and mandolin furnished some fine music. They sang and played most admirably, pleasing everyone.
Two Scotch character, Arthur and Peggy were then introduced and appeared in Highland kilts. Peggy sang most acceptably while Arthur did some wonderful stunts on a tight wire. He danced, hoped, skipped, turned somersaults backwards and did many thrilling acts.
Then came some amusing eating contests. Daisy Minter and Alberta Becup tied in the girls' pie eating contest and Bud Palmer took first in the boys' contest.
In the melon eating contest Albert Dice won first.

An unusual exhibit is that in the window at T. M. Tomlinson's store, the work of Harold Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Logan Black. The exhibit includes a number of miniature automobiles made by this young man, who is a natural born mechanic.
Included are Packard, Cadillac and Ford touring cars, together with a Fordson tractor, a separator, a fire truck like that in the Jacksonville fire department, and an aeroplane. The exhibit is one which affords ample proof of the young man's unusual skill.

FIRST TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY MONDAY

Was Held at New High School Building—School Opens This Morning—List of Books in Schools for Coming Year.

The first general teachers assembly of the Jacksonville public schools was held in the auditorium of the new high school yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. At 8:45 this morning the first general assembly for the high school will be held.

The school is now ready for the coming year and is splendidly equipped. Principal Shafer plans to start as many activities at once as can be possibly managed. Notable among these is the school paper, the "J. H. S. Exhaust." This paper is one of the best organizations in the school and is very useful in moulding school spirit. Last year it was started after it had been discontinued for four years. This discontinuance was due to the burning of the school and the general inconvenience suffered by the high school. Mr. Shafer plans to start the publication right away and an issue will probably be out the first week of school.

The grade schools will open at 9 o'clock this morning and the parents are urged to help the children in the checking of their books. The following list has been provided to assist in this and includes a complete list of all materials from the first grade through the high school.

The following general rules for the direction of children in getting started in their school work should be carefully obeyed.

Observance of all rules and careful attention to such information as has been published from time to time will help to avoid much inconvenience and delay in beginning the year's work.

Entrance Rules.

All children who are 6 years of age or become 6 years of age by Thanksgiving may enter the beginning classes of the public schools.

There are no kindergartens connected with the public schools.

Attend Own School.

Each child in the grade should attend the school in the ward in which he lives.

The increased number of children in the city during the past two years has made it impossible to grant any transfers.

Some years ago sufficient room was provided in the various districts to provide for the children living in them. It is impossible to transfer and secure seating space.

Attend the First Day.

Parents should make every effort to have their children enroll the first day.

Seats are assigned and classes are formed on this basis. Children who enter are at a disadvantage though everything possible will be done for them.

Open Air School.

Children who were in the Open Air school last year should report at the Open Air school for re-examination.

We want you to see our new millinery department. Everything new. Hats the very latest in style.

DOINGS AT GRACE CHURCH

Sunday school started out for the fall season with some real vim and snap.

The singing was spirited. Old scholars were back and new ones were made welcome.

Next Sunday the orchestra will be back in their accustomed place.

There were in attendance 237 and the Centenary offering amounted to $27.11.

At the morning service the pastor preached a strong helpful sermon.

The double quartet appeared for the first time of the season and if the music rendered on Sunday is a sample of the kind to be rendered during the winter the church will have some splendid musical treats.

Epworth League meeting was held at 6:30. In the evening Rev. J. Weber preached in the absence of the pastor.

The women's Foreign Missionary society will meet Wednesday, September fourteenth instead of Tuesday the sixth.

MORGAN COUNTY FAIR OPENS GATES TODAY

ENTRIES FOR VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS ARE NUMEROUS.

Farmers and Livestock Men With Combined Interest Have Made Exhibit Possible—Big Tents House Prize Animals.

The grounds of the Morgan county fair presented a scene of great activity all day Monday. The officers and directors of the fair, together with other members of the farm bureau, were busy from an early morning hour until darkness fell. Horses, mules, cattle, sheep and swine arrived in large numbers during the day, while entries poured in for other departments.

Secy. H. J. Rucker will close his lists this morning at 9 o'clock and the indications were last night that the number of entries will far exceed the expectations of the management. The big tent where livestock judging is to take place has a central position on the grounds. Under this canvas there are ringside accommodations for hundreds of people. In addition, there will be 100 reserved seats occupying a central space. However, it is by no means necessary to secure a reserved seat in order to gain a full view of the show ring.

There are two tents 70x100 feet in dimensions for the hogs on exhibit and a tent of the same size is devoted to cattle. Horses and mules are in another tent and the two barns on the grounds are also devoted to their use.

While this is a breeders' fair and livestock is given a most important place, the visitor must not think for a moment that other interests have been lost sight of. Months ago competent women were placed in charge of the home department and one of the largest tents is devoted to bread, dairy and apicary products; confections, horticulture and domestic art. The entries there are especially numerous and the exhibits in the ladies' department are well worth the attention of all visitors.

The main entrance to the grounds is at the southwest corner of the Mound avenue road. Persons who leave the street cars will find this entrance very convenient and adjacent to it is the gateway for automobiles. The north side entrance on College avenue will be especially for the use of exhibitors or others who have business on the grounds. Automobiles are to be parked along the west fence. When this space is taken the vacant lots on the west side of the road will be available.

The general admission is 50c and a season ticket for the three days costs $1. Persons who wish reserved seats can make reservations by calling the Secretary, Illinois phone 70-140.

Favorable weather is all that is needed to make the fair a success. For continued interest has been shown by those directly connected with the fair and also by hundreds of persons who are making entries. The fine spirit of co-operative effort which prevails gives ample proof that the farmers of Morgan county have confidence in each other and in the big business of agriculture and livestock in which they are engaged.

Charles S. Black is the general superintendent and agreed to take that position only after others identified with the farm bureau management acceded to his request to serve as superintendents and so share responsibilities with him. These various officials are serving entirely without pay, their only purpose being the upbuilding of farm and livestock interests in the county.

Here are some of the department superintendents who are helping make the fair a success.

Horse—J. W. Arnold.

Mules—J. L. Henry.

Beef Cattle—C. L. Hawker.

Dairy Cattle—L. T. Potter.

Farm Products—C. A. Rowe.

Swine—Howard Stevenson.

Sheep—F. A. Seymour.

S. J. Camm has general charge of the ladies' department; Lester Reed manages the show ring with W. H. Crum as ring marshal.

Other committee workers are ribbons and catalogues, Charles Gibson; sanitation, H. E. Kitter; water, F. E. Downey and J. W. Arnold. Other workers will be named in subsequent articles.

All judging of livestock will be done under the big tent, seating capacity about 1,500. Judging begins at 9 a. m. today with Poland China hogs and beef cattle at 1 p. m. Draft horses will be in the ring.

The judging of swine will be continued as breeds coming as follows: Poland China, Duroc Jerseys, Berkshires, Spotted Poles, Hampshires, Chester Whites and Farnworth.

I WAS A NERVOUS BANKRUPT

WEAK, WORN AND "ALL IN"

I Was Too Weak to Work; Too Nervous to Think and My Business Was Going to Ruin

Until I was a complete physical and mental wreck with financial ruin staring me in the face, I never realized that the system manufactured any such much nerve force every twenty-four hours, and that through worry, overwork, excitement, grief, or constant nervous strain, or other excesses, you used up your nerve force faster than it was made, that in time you were bound to become a nervous bankrupt, and like a man who continually spends more money than he makes is bound, in time, to become a financial bankrupt.

I was fast losing my old time strength and endurance and that I was getting extremely nervous, but I did not attach much importance to it until one day I found that I was suffering terrible tortures from an awful de-vitalizing weakness that not my nerve all on edge. The slightest thing completely upset me. I had a dull heavy aching pain in the lower back part of my head, and sometimes a very disagreeable sense of fullness in the front end top of my head. I could not sleep well at night. A continuous round of thoughts would chase one another through my brain. I would often find myself in a state of profuse perspiration, which was very weakening. Sometimes I suffered from heart palpitation and indigestion. I would often wake up in the middle of the night with a horrible nightmare, and then I was chained to my bed. Finally my pains, aches, and extreme nervousness and weakness became so alarming that I was afraid I was going to die, and I often thought of committing suicide.

The above is a hypothetical case which a physician says is typical of thousands. It is alarming to think very few people really have strong nerves nowadays, and how many have traces of thousands suffer from eventualities of the nervous system. Your nerve cells are very much like the cells of a storage battery in an electric lamp, in which the electric current flows out as long as the battery is in such cases, unless they do something quickly to increase the supply of nerve-vital fluid so as to furnish increased power to the nerve, they are likely to go all to pieces at a moment's notice. Most remarkable results are usually obtained by these unfortunate sufferers from the free administration of Nuxated Iron from two tablets three times a day after meals. This valuable remedy contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the nerve and brain cells of man.

It also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. This form of iron will not burden or injure the stomach, but it will take the place of the iron which is missing from the blood and the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the nerve and brain cells of man.

Over four million people are using Nuxated Iron annually, and from the remarkably beneficial results which it has produced, the manufacturers feel so certain of its efficacy that they guarantee satisfactory results to every purchaser of the pill refund your money. Beware of substitutes, look for the word "Nuxated" on every tablet.

After using Nuxated Iron we shall be pleased to have you write us stating it does for you for publication. Your name will be withheld.

Nuxated Iron for the blood and nerves is sold by all druggists.

Browns and White Sox Each Win Game at South Side Park—
 Sunday's Game Goes to the Sox 5 to 1 and Monday's Game to Browns 4 to 5.

The White Sox and Browns broke even at South Side park Sunday and Monday. The White Sox took Sunday's game by a score of 5 to 1 in 11 innings while the Browns took Monday's game by a score of 4 to 5.

In Sunday's game it was a pitchers' battle between Cain and Seymour. Cain struckout 17 men and Seymour fanned 12. Had Cain received good support he should have been returned the victor, but errors on the part of his team mates lost the game.

Monday's game was too close-played and was not as interesting as that of Sunday. Cain had to go to the mound again for the Browns in the second inning and was again master of the situation allowing but one run to score during the remainder of the game.

The Browns hit the ball hard.

DOWNY OUTPOINTS JOHNNY WILSON

RINGSIDE, Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 5.—Bryan Downey of Cleveland and Johnny Wilson of Boston fought twelve tame and uninteresting rounds in their bout here this afternoon to settle their dispute over the world's championship.

Under the New Jersey law no decision was permitted, but Wilson retained his championship belt, the fight going the limit. However, it was the opinion of a majority of newspapermen and fight experts at the ringside that Downey won on points. He forced the fighting in most of the rounds and landed the cleanest blows.

Wilson's performance was so unsatisfactory to the New Jersey boxing commission that they ordered Promoter Tex Rickard to hold his share of the purse pending a round of applause.

When Wilson left the ring after the bout he was booed loudly by the crowd while Downey received a round of applause.

There was not a semblance of a knockdown at any time during the fight. Wilson fell into a clinch at every opportunity and landed few hard blows on his opponent. Downey appeared to have had the better of four rounds, three went to Wilson and the others were even.

INDEES WIN AND LOSE TO ROODHOUSE

Won Sunday by Score of 5 to 0 and Were Swamped Monday by Score of 12 to 0.

The Indees broke even with Roodhouse in three games winning the first game by score of 5 to 0 and getting swamped Monday by a score of 12 to 0.

Hartman pitched both games for Roodhouse. Sunday the Indees found him easy but yesterday they could not hit him with a plank. The Indees also looked like a world championship team Sunday and about as bad as one could imagine Monday.

Errors were plentiful, 12 errors of commission being chalked up. There also were numerous errors of omission which aided Roodhouse in piling up runs.

Wright and Clark formed the battery for the Sunday game while Hamm, Wright and Clark worked Monday.

Cheapness
Doesn't Pay!

That is a definite statement
but it is true.
Take the wiring of a house
—you can get the work done cheaply, too cheaply to be satisfactory.
Like anything else these is a limit below which you could not go in the purchase of electrical goods.
That limit is the lowest possible price giving a good job in exchange. Patronize a responsible contractor, one who knows his work and is faithful in carrying it out.
That is what we stand for and we shall be glad to discuss the wiring of your home with you.

EMPLOYMENT FACTS

Conditions in Illinois Cities Studied By Newspaper Representative.

A staff correspondent of the Chicago Tribune writes as follows about employment conditions in Illinois:

Illinois and Chicago.
The report on conditions in Illinois follows:

"General: While business continues at a standstill, the outlook is brighter. The reopening of mines for the fall trade will help business in the southern part of the state. Many factories have been operating at one-third capacity. There is slight improvement in iron and steel.

"Chicago: A contract calling for 3,271 tons of steel has been awarded a local bridge company.
This is one of the largest recorded in the central west since the contract was announced for the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. Steel mill operations are unchanged. Demand for pig iron continues brisk, but there are few buyers in the finished steel market. Extensive home building is planned. Settlement of disputes in the building trades means that 50,000 or 60,000 men will secure employment in this line. Retail trade is improving.

"Joliet, Peoria, Rockford.
Joliet: The employed have been estimated at 8,000. Plants are operating at from 10 per cent to 50 per cent below normal the only one is entirely closed down.
Street and road work has given work to 150 men. Four or five factories are putting on additional help and prospects look a little brighter. Two industries have recently reopened, giving employment to about 400.

"Peoria: The implement factories are working with forces very much reduced, handling mostly repair parts. On account of diversified industries, conditions on the whole are better than in some other nearby cities.

"Rockford: Furniture, textiles and building show improvement, but the outlook for metals and leather is not so promising. No plants are entirely closed, most of them keeping open for business with skeleton forces; some are running three days per week, others four. Road construction between Rockford and Belvidere will employ 200 or 250. New construction projects include the erection of a fifteen story building and a large warehouse.

"Aurora, Danville, Decatur.
Aurora: Foundries employing 350 are closed, due to lack of orders. A packing plant has also shut down, affecting about seventy-five men. The temporary industrial depression has relieved the shortage of farm help. A housing problem exists.

"Danville: There is no demand for labor and the unemployed are estimated at 2,500. Transients from Ohio are swelling the ranks of the idle. Mines are operating but two days a week. Proposed new construction jobs include a school building, state armory, and a Y. W. C. A. structure. Work on these is expected to start shortly and give employment to about 150.

"Decatur: Practically all industries are running from three to five days a week, employing from 50 to 75 per cent of normal help. The construction of a large dam, also a lake three miles in length by one in width, and the building of bridges and roads is affording employment to about 1,000. General conditions are fairly good."

FILES DAMAGE SUIT
The Carrollton Gazette says that Mrs. Ethel Ross as administratrix of the estate of Ernest F.
Ross, deceased has filed suit against George North of Carrollton for $10,000 damages for the death of her husband who was killed in an auto accident in Alton, October 11, 1920. Her husband was in a car with George North on their way to a Masonic meeting in Alton. In going down the hill into Alton the car driven by George North became unmanageable, ran away down the hill and was wrecked killing Ross and injuring the other occupants of the car.

VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT
IMPROVE
Fred A. Stone and R. W. Harvey who were seriously injured in an auto accident last week are improving and will soon be able to leave Passavant hospital and return to their homes in Griggsville.
J. S. Felmley who was also injured has recovered sufficiently to return to Griggsville.

METHODISTS BEGIN CONFERENCE TOMORROW

FOUR BISHOPS WILL MAKE GATHERING NOTABLE

Opening Session Will be Held Wednesday Morning — Bishop Nicholson Plans Active Work — Epworth League Anniversary Service Tonight at Centenary.

Although the session of the Illinois Methodist Conference will not open until tomorrow a number of dignitaries of the church and ministers will arrive today.

The first session of the conference will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. However, tonight at Centenary church the anniversary of the Epworth League will be observed with an address by Dr. Guthrie who is the Epworth League secretary for this conference.

This session of the conference will be notable for the presence of four bishops. The various sessions will be presided over by Bishop Thomas Nicholson who will arrive from Chicago this morning. Thursday night Bishop McDowell of Washington, D. C., will deliver the conference lecture. Friday afternoon Bishop Anderson of Cincinnati will deliver the educational address and will speak again at the banquet that evening. Sunday at an hour still to be announced Bishop Thirkield of Mexico will make an address on conditions in Mexico.

An indication that this will be a busy conference is found in the fact that sessions are to be held both morning and afternoon. Usually only morning sessions of the conference proper are held but Bishop Nicholson has arranged this year for the first part of each afternoon to be spent with the general conference program in addition to the morning hours. Immediately after the close of the afternoon sessions the cabinet which consists of the presiding bishop and the district superintendents will meet. These conferences will be held each afternoon and in the evening hours until the various business matters have been given attention and the difficult work of assignments completed.

Dr. Joseph C. Nate, former pastor of Grace church and now assistant secretary of the board of education of the church, will be in attendance coming here from New York City. Dr. Nate was superintendent of the Champaign-Danville district until a few months ago when he went to New York City. He was succeeded by Dr. A. K. Byrns of Bloomington and there have been persistent rumors that the vacancy in Bloomington will be filled by the appointment of Dr. F. A. McCarty now of Quincy.

All of the visiting bishops will be guests at Illinois Woman's College. The various sessions of the cabinet will be held at the college and among the district superintendents who will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Harker will be Dr. Byrns of Champaign, Dr. Antrim of Springfield and Dr. Ewing of Decatur.

GAVE DELIGHTFUL VOCAL PROGRAM

Miss Diamond Vadakin, a pupil of Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson, gave a vocal recital at the Lynnville Christian church the evening of Sept. 2nd, which was heard by a large audience. It was in every way a splendid program for Miss Vadakin, who has a lyric soprano voice of excellent quality and wide range. Her expression is free from affectation and she sings with a fine and sympathetic intelligence.

Mrs. Wilson served as accompanist in this way adding quite largely to the success of the program.

OBITUARY.

Virginia M. Ross, the beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Ross was born near Palmyra in Macoupin county, February 1, 1821, and died August 22, 1921. The weary watches of the night are over and our precious gem is gone—gone from those who loved her so well—gone from those she loved. We watched over the precious one and hoped and prayed that death might stay his cold, icy hand. But he halted not on his onward march, but with ruthless hand took the little one to her heavenly home. Just a sweet flower which budded here and was plucked and transplanted in the sunlight of God's eternal love, to bloom more beautifully and be more fragrant and to be keen to us to come to her, and not ask her to return to us. If she could speak today from that spirit land she would say "Papa and mama come to me and enjoy the blessings of God's eternal love thru the isles of eternity." She is gone but not last. She rests now in the arms of the Dear Savior, watching and waiting for those she loved so well.

Rev. Campbell spoke words of consolation to the bereaved parents, and all that was mortal of the beloved one was laid to rest in the Palmyra cemetery. So we bid her a last and long farewell until we meet her in that heavenly home where sickness, pain, sorrow and death are unknown, and all tears are wiped away by God's own hand. Friend.

WILL TEACH IN SPRINGFIELD

Mrs. Clara Moors Nelms, formerly a prominent violinist and teacher in this city, has become a member of the faculty of the Tiffany School of Music. The following paragraphs which appeared in the Springfield State Register will be of unusual interest to her many acquaintances here: "Mrs. Tiffany is very proud of having obtained Mrs. Clara Moore Nelms as head of the violin department. Mrs. Nelms received much of her musical education abroad and was a pupil of Oskar Back of Brussels, Belgium. For four years before coming to Springfield Mrs. Nelms was violin instructor at the Illinois College of Music at Jacksonville.

"In addition to her experience as teacher, Mrs. Nelms has done a great deal of concert work. As pupils learn by imitation to a considerable extent the ease and grace of their instructor, which is a noticeable quality of Mrs. Nelms work, will be a distinct advantage to them."
